GKHAN Token

The native token of the BELOBABA ecosystem

As the BELOBABA native token, $GKHAN is the gateway for a new era of digital finance by changing completely the relation between banking and its users.

Mechanism of enriching the users

Dive into the unique mechanisms designed to foster long-term value, incentivize holding, and unlock the full potential of your GKHAN tokens in a sustainable and rewarding experience for every token holder.

What is X-GKHAN?

X-GKHAN is a non-transferable token, i.e. it cannot be sold or exchanged. However, it does allow access to a variety of incentive mechanics within the Belobaba ecosystem.

Utilities and Benefits of the X-GKHAN Token

X-GKHAN allows users to access different levels within the ecosystem, each with their own additional with its own advantages and additional benefits. While DAO operates as a form of transparent governance for protocols, decision making and actions.

- Rewards for Fees Generated by the Protocol in USDT.
- Improved Banking Services Commissions.
- Access to Launchpad
- Access to Exclusive Services
- Access to Training
- Access to Tiers
- DAO System

Incentives and Staking Benefits

One of the common problems in many staking systems is that the incentives tend to generate inflation, as the rewards generate inflation, as rewards are delivered on the same token that is being staked. This can lead to a devaluation of the token overtime. In contrast, Belobaba's system offers a number of benefits designed to add real value to X-GKHAN holders, mitigating inflation risk.

Future utilities

In addition to the above-mentioned utilities, Belobaba plans to introduce many more advantages and benefits for X-GKHAN holders in the future, continually expanding the value and utility of the token.

The $GKHAN token is central to our ecosystem and functions as the main currency of exchange within the BELOBABA platform.

The token enables payments, access to loans and participation in investments. In addition we incorporate a deflationary model where tokens are regularly burned, reducing the total supply and potentially increasing their long-term value.
